To capture movement data using cameras, 30 infrared markers are worn by each player in the capture suit, and are strategically placed over key anatomical landmarks. The system uses a combination of cameras and software to track the player. When playing FIFA 22, fans will experience more realistic ball physics, an all new Matchday Manager feature, an all new Frostbite engine, and other refinements and enhancements added to the Frostbite engine. FIFA Ultimate Team™ has received a range of new features and content to enhance and expand its gameplay. Players who have signed contracts will receive new contracts and goals that include content additions such as Exotic Content, which can be unlocked through gameplay. New Contract Contracts will appear at a rate of one per week and will be regularly added to the game. In celebration of the season's kickoff, FIFA Ultimate Team has added over $100,000 worth of player content in a number of packs and bundles available now until June 3, 2014. The biggest addition is the "FUT Kit Pack," which comes with over $30,000 worth of kits. There are plenty of depth options for the manager and you have a complete overview of the different stats for each player. Another feature available in the Home mode is the controls (Quick Player Switching) to pause during gameplay. There is also a timer that displays in real time how much time remains in a game. Players will be able to change formations for the teams at halftime, pause the match, rewind the game, and review a replay of their performance. Home mode is available for 9 different stadiums in FIFA 22 and is the right place to start and end a Single Player Career Mode. FUT Update FIFA 22 has a new system with the FUT Update called "Contracts." Contracts are a series of events that occurs regularly, and are linked to contract progression and reveal.
